Dear Enabling Devices Community:

It started with a train set, a mercury switch, and a young boy whose therapist thought he couldn't play with toys.

In 1975 my father, Steven Kanor, walked into a room at United Cerebral Palsy/Long Island and saw a boy sitting in a wheelchair, his head resting on his shoulder. When my dad asked where the toys were, the OT said, "He doesn't have the motor skills to play with toys, and he can't lift his head."

But my father was not interested in what the boy couldn't do. He was interested in the boy's potential.

The next morning, he was back. He'd brought a train set, which he'd connected to a mercury switch. The switch, the first capability switch he'd designed, was attached to the boy's ear. When the boy raised his head, the switch made contact and the train ran around the tracks. After several weeks of playing with this toy, the boy was holding his head up straight, even when the train was not running. My father was elated. Since that day, he never stopped innovating, never stopped trying to make our products better, never stopped designing new devices.

Today, our design team is just as passionate, just as creative, and just as committed to innovation as the man who founded this company. To that end we have taken a giant leap into the 21st Century.

When I first joined Enabling Devices in 2015, our toys and devices were all either vacuum or injection molded. We had considered 3D printing, but the process was too slow and too expensive. As is the case with most technologies, though, the machines quickly became cheaper, faster and better. In the summer of 2020, we bought our first 3D printer. I thought we would just dip our toes into 3D printing. Instead, thanks to the amazing talents and commitment of our production team, we've jumped in with both feet.

But what, you might ask, does this mean for you—the end-user, the teacher, the therapist, the parent? The first thing you might notice is that the 3D products are cleaner, more streamlined and more modern looking. But much more importantly, they simply work better. Because of the precision of 3D printing, the process of assembling each product is more consistent, which leads to devices that activate easily, that work flawlessly. Frankly, we think you're going to love them! Look for the "improved design" icon for these 3D printed products.

Best,

stretch your budget with kits & bundles

Classroom kits are a fast and easy way to outfit your special needs classroom with a variety of products to suit different students. Our Classroom Communication Kits, for example, contain low- and mid-tech AAC devices including Go! Boards, Talkables, Put-Em-Arounds and sequencers. The Classroom Switch Kit (page 8) has nine different switches to accommodate a range of needs. There's even an Autism Spectrum Disorder Kit (page 8) with products to assist with communication, organizational skills, and sensory input. The Adapted Music Kit (page 7) is designed for both music teachers, music therapists, and general therapy use. And there is a specially designed Kit for the Visually Impaired (page 9).

start the conversation with AAC devices

#2401 Talkable 3

Communication devices, also called Augmentative and Alternative Communication (AAC) devices, are used to communicate without using verbal speech. In addition to unaided communication, such as facial expressions and gestures, these tools can help people with communication disorders interact with others and improve their language skills.

With intuitive AAC buttons and devices, individuals with disabilities can navigate complex communication requirements and express themselves more easily. At Enabling Devices, we're committed to providing the solutions children and adults with special needs require to engage with the world in new ways. You can trust us to partner with you and provide unique options to enrich the lives of individuals with disabilities and those who work with them.

mount your devices exactly where you need them

Mounts are an extra set of hands for individuals with mobility issues and other disabilities that can affect grip and movement. They hold switches, devices, phones and other needed items securely without causing discomfort or fatigue. By securing items to a tabletop or chair, mounts also ensure fewer dropped items and easier organization.

There are different types of mounts to help grip lighter and more delicate items, such as an iPad, as well as mounts designed to hold multiple items or even heavy devices. This diversity allows the user to focus on using the wheelchair without also having to worry about holding on to an item. Some mounts also have adjustable arms, helping wheelchair users move a phone or tablet for easy use.

For assistance choosing the right mounting system, or call our product specialists at 1-800-832-8697.

e we've got a switch for every need

#725 Multi-Sensory Center

Switches are the gateway to independence for people with special needs. They allow the user to activate a myriad of switch adapted devices, including toys, electronics, appliances and more. Enabling Devices' switches come in various colors, shapes and sizes to suit different needs.

When choosing a switch, consider the following:

- How sensitive does the switch need to be?
- How large an activation surface is needed?
- Does the user need an auditory, visual or tactile cue that the switch has been activated?
- Which body part will the person be using to activate the switch?
- Does the switch need to be mounted?

We have a handy guide to choosing the right switch for your needs online. Visit enablingdevices.com/comparison-charts/ to view or download the Capability Switches Comparison Chart.

A smaller version of our best-selling Gumball Switches, the "minis" share the same incomparable tactile and auditory feedback, versatility and durability as their big siblings, but their smaller size means they can be mounted almost anywhere. #2251 Sensational Textured Activity Center

Our company was founded on the premise that all children should have toys that are accessible, educational and just plain fun! We have a large selection of toys and games that help parents, teachers and therapists build motor and cognitive skills in individuals with disabilities.

Many of our toys can be used to achieve multiple goals. For example, the Sensational Textured Activity Center (#2251), shown at left, is bursting with textures, sights and sounds that can address more than a dozen therapeutic learning goals. Its mirrors, fans, music, songs, lights, and sound effects increase visual attention and tracking; encourage reaching, swiping and grasping; increase auditory development, and more.

Our Skills Development Chart online will help you choose the right toys and games based on the individual learning goals. You can view or download it at enablingdevices. com/activity-guides-product-tips/ or call us for personal assistance at 1-800-832-8697.

products to help develop ADL skills

#3200 Slant Board

Adaptive training tools help people with disabilities learn and perform activities of daily living (ADLs) by bridging the gap between their abilities and the activity. They make it easier for someone with a disability to practice an ADL so they can apply it to life at home, school and work. We carry products that assist with writing, operating appliances, gardening, cooking, crafting, and dressing.

Our Slant Board (#3200, left) is extremely popular because of its ergonomic design, which encourages proper wrist position and improves posture and stability. Our Pouring Cups (#20, page 87) are also a bestseller and can be used for both cooking and craft projects.

Weighted Handwriting Glove

Our super-versatile weighted glove provides proprioceptive input and compression that helps students perform a variety of fine motor and self-help activities. Made of soft cotton spandex with a weighted pouch that rests on the back of the hand, the glove can also be worn during hand strengthening exercises. The glove's fingerless design allows for maximum finger flexibility and wrist mobility. Reversible and hand washable. For sizing, measure width at knuckles. Small: $2\frac{1}{2}$ "; Medium: 3"; Large: $3\frac{1}{2}$ ". Weight: $\frac{1}{2}$ lb.

Auditory Communicator 16-Levels (1) 🚳

Just right for those unable to use a multi-button communicator due to visual or physical impairments, this unique communicator scans through pre-recorded messages at a volume that only the user can hear. Once the user reaches the message they want to play, they simply press the switch plate again to play it at an amplified volume. With 16 levels with 18 seconds of record time per level, no one will be at a loss for words! Comes with a built-in switch and a jack for use with an external switch. Size: 61/2"L x 4"W x 21/2"H. Requires 4 AA Batteries. Weight: 1/2 lb.

Our Story

Since 1978, Enabling Devices has been creating and adapting toys, tools, devices and assistive technology for children, teens and adults with a variety of disabilities. From the beginning, the company's primary mission has been meeting the needs of its customers and developing products that enrich their lives. Personalized customer service is emblematic of the company's peoplecentered approach. As always, we welcome customers' calls and comments, and whenever possible, are happy to provide personalized solutions. With the right tools, people with disabilities are doing great things and finding great joy in their lives. Our mission is to increase their joy as much as possible.

Call us at 800.832.8697

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO READ BEFORE CALLING Checking the batteries to make sure that they are fresh and properly installed can prevent 95% of all returns. We recommend alkaline batteries be used. Any of our products that have been switch-adapted will only work with "mono" adapters and will not work with "stereo" adapters. If you are having trouble with a product, please refer to the troubleshooting tips in your user's guide.

RETURN AUTHORIZATION

All items MUST have a Return Authorization Number before being sent back. You can obtain an RA# by calling us at 800-832-8697 X6. If possible, please have your invoice number or customer number available as this will help to expedite the return process. To ensure efficient delivery, we suggest you send your return via a trackable method.

refunds/credits

You are entitled to a refund/company credit on most items (except where noted) within 30 days of delivery. Items being returned must be in new condition and unmarked. Any item that has been written on with permanent marker or has stickers/labels on it cannot be returned for a refund, a credit or an exchange. All original packaging, accessories and manuals must be included. Custom/Special orders or final sale items cannot be returned. Items that are non-returnable (these items are noted) can still be repaired. Items being returned in bulk (quantity of 10 or more) have a 20% re-stocking fee.

DAMAGED/DEFECTIVE

Please notify us within 10 days of receipt of any discrepancies, items damaged in shipping and/or faulty items. Free Technical Support is available by phone 800-832-8697 or email customer_support@enablingdevices.com. We may be able to trouble-shoot the problem and avoid having the item returned.

PLEASE NOTE: There is a $35 (domestic) and a $50 (international) diagnostic fee for each returned item found to be in good working order. Also, customers are responsible for return shipping costs if items are found to be in good working order, were ordered by the customer incorrectly, or if the item is not suitable. All items returned for credit/refund must be shipped to us unmarked and in original packaging.

For U.S. and Canada purchases, there is a one year warranty on communicators and switches. For all other products there is a 90 day warranty for manufacturing defects unless noted on our website. Items under warranty will be repaired free of charge. There will be a charge for repair and return shipping and handling on all items out of warranty. For international customers, please visit our website www.enablingdevices.com for warranty information. If you have any questions regarding returns, repairs, and warranty information or if you would like a repair fee quote please contact us at 800-832-8697 X6 or email returns@enablingdevices.com. Please note that these time frames and repair fees are as stated and cannot be changed. Repairs, alterations or modifications done by someone other than Enabling Devices will automatically void our warranty.

Due to ever changing demands, certain toys may be discontinued by their manufacturer. If a substitution of a similar toy must be made, it will be of equal value. Our products are continually being improved and so the appearance of the product in the photo may slightly differ from what you receive. Please be assured that you will always receive the latest version.
